

Analyzing the database

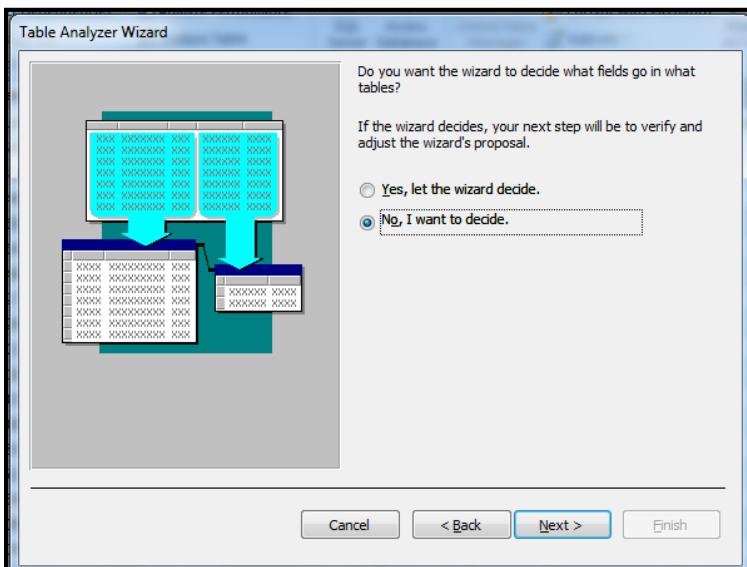

Click on the 'Analyze Table'

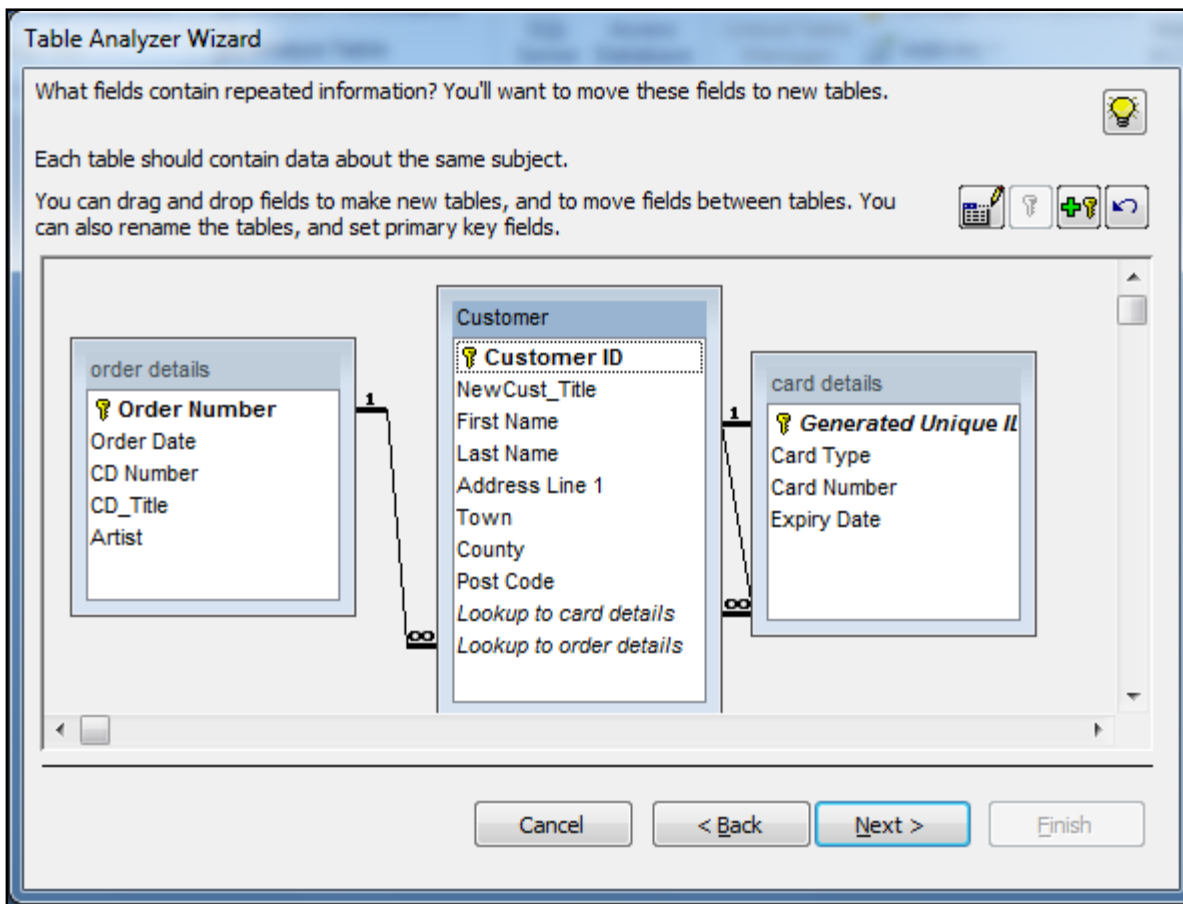

Select the table and press next

As I wanted to decide how to split the tables, I chose the second option:

The tables are then split

That completes the wizard. As the query is not needed at this stage, the second option is chosen

Table Analyzer Wizard

That's all the information the wizard needs to create related tables.

After the wizard creates new tables, it can create a query that looks like your original table but does much more.

If you choose to create a query:

- Forms and reports based on your original table will continue to work.
- The wizard will give the query the name of your original table, and rename your original table.

Do you want a query?

☐ Yes, create the query.

☒ No, don't create the query.

Buttons: Cancel, < Back, Next >, Finish

Here is the view of the tables after splitting
